

Red Propaganda Beamed To U.S. Base At Thule

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says Russia is aiming its propaganda radio at American servicemen stationed on the big and isolated air base of Thule, in northwestern Greenland.

It cites the Thule-beamed voice of Russia as part of the general Red propaganda effort directed "at undermining the American soldiers' morale, especially in foreign lands where American troops are stationed."

Reference to Thule is contained in a new troop training pamphlet, "Defense Against Enemy Propaganda," now being circulated by the Army. It does not discuss what, if any, effect the propaganda has on U. S. troops.

The Army pamphlet says:

"Troops there hear a program conducted by an anonymous feminine disc jockey, dubbed Moscow Molly by the American soldiers. In addition to the recorded rumbas and fox trots the soft female voice quotes editorials from Pravda, the leading Soviet party newspaper in Russia. Although the men tune in only to hear dance music introduced by a feminine voice, which is automatically American in accent, they are, nonetheless, subjected to Communist propaganda."

The pamphlet says the Soviet government operates about 6,000 special local schools, about 177 regional schools and approximately a dozen advanced schools for specialized training in propaganda dissemination.

In discussing the pamphlet, Army officers said today Communist radio stations are active in other areas of the world where American forces are stationed, including Japan and Europe.

Colonel Convicted Of Aiding Reds Is Ousted From Army

By EARL AYKROID

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP)—Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, convicted of collaborating with the Communists as a prisoner of war in Korea, today was sentenced by an Army court to be dismissed from the service and to forfeit all pay and allowances.

The 11-member court - martial deliberated Fleming's fate for 12 hours before fixing his punishment. They studied the evidence from late afternoon Wednesday until 3:30 a. m. this morning and then returned at 8 a. m. (est) to deliver the verdict.

Most of the prosecution and defense witnesses were in the courtroom when the sentence was announced. Many of the men who were prisoners of war in Korea with Fleming stood tensely in the courtroom waiting for the court's decision.

Goes Into Business

"Thank God I'm out of prison now—this one and the Communist's," Col. Fleming said after the sentence was pronounced. "He added:

"I'll do everything I can to clear my name."

"Dismissal from the service is pretty hard to take. I don't intend to stop the fight which started here."

The colonel now is released from custody.

Fleming said that after he has rested he plans to go into business—the marine supply business, which "I wanted to get into for the last 20 years."

Wife Relieved

Fleming's wife, Gladys, told newsmen as the verdict brought a smile of relief to her face: "I'm so happy that he is out of jail. Now we can go on and fight this thing."

When the verdict was announced it was the colonel's first free moment since May 19 when he was seized at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where he was stationed. He has been in custody at Ft. Sheridan for four months.

Escanaba Potential Big Lake Port When Seaway Is Finished

DETROIT (AP)—Delegates to the Michigan Municipal League convention were told today that the St. Lawrence Seaway will not make a major international port of every small community on the Great Lakes.

Four successive speakers warned that "dreamers have their heads in the clouds and should get back to earth."

State Rep. Herb Clements (R-Dockerville), chairman of the House Marine Affairs Committee at Lansing, said:

"Only a handful of Michigan cities will become ports of consequence because only they have the industry and the hinterlands to support a port."

Clements' list of potential big ports included Detroit, Monroe, Port Huron, Bay City, Muskegon and possibly Escanaba.

Arrival Of Brother May End Fast Of Ill MSC Indian Student

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State College officials hope that the arrival of a brother will end the long fast of a critically-ill exchange student from New Delhi, India.

The student, Sankar Chari, 27, has been on a "modified fast" for nearly three weeks in the college hospital. He has taken liquids but ate solid foods only once.

Chari's brother has cabled he will arrive in Michigan from New Delhi by plane Friday afternoon. Chari was badly burned in a laboratory explosion and later underwent a leg amputation.

Far West Gives Rousing Welcome To Eisenhower

Train Wrecked By Broken Axle; Loss $250,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A broken axle today was listed as the probable cause of the derailment Wednesday of the Santa Fe Railroad's streamliner San Francisco Chief in which all 191 passengers escaped serious injury.

Between 20 and 30 persons aboard the Oakland, Calif.-to-Chicago train were shaken up but only two passengers and three crew members were hospitalized over night.

The Santa Fe estimated damage at $250,000.

The accident occurred at Orwood Crossing 40 miles east of San Francisco as the train was traveling about 70 miles an hour. Nine cars left its track.

The derailment was the San Francisco Chief's second within a month. It was derailed at Lomax, Ill., Aug. 22, when five persons were killed and 53 injured.

Roadmaster Walter Johnson said a dragging broken axle on one of the diesel units was the probable cause of Wednesday's accident.

State Housing Scandals Bared

By A. F. MAHN Jr.

DETROIT (AP)—Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) said today as his Senate Banking Committee opened an inquiry into Federal Housing Administration operations in Michigan that this state "has had fewer big housing scandals" than most others.

Only one Michigan development builder was summoned. He was Milton Ratner, of suburban St. Clair Shores, who Capehart said got a total of $4,624,000 in nine different loans for Lake Shore Village.

But there was 10 on the docket for inquiry into FHA home improvement loans. All were from the Detroit area.

Joyce A. Schnackenberg and Fred W. Knecht, two fired officials of the Grand Rapids FHA office, headed the list of witnesses. They were indicted and fined for irregularities.

Capehart said he found that most big housing projects in Michigan were FHA-insured for 100 per cent of the cost, or 10 per cent above the limit set in FHA law, but that many in other states they had been insured for as much as 160 per cent of the cost.

That, he explained, gave builders a 60 per cent "windfall" profit. In other words, after paying all the costs out of their loan they still had 60 per cent left and tenants had to pay rents based on the full 160 per cent loan.

Birth Of Baby Shown On TV, But Father Misses Most Of It

CINCINNATI (AP)—Television viewers in southwestern Ohio watched a baby born by a cesarean operation here Wednesday night but the father missed most of it.

Shortly before the operation went on the air over station WLW-TV, the father had to take his mother-in-law home because she was ill. He was reported to have seen a bit of telecast at his mother-in-law's home but by the time he got back to the hospital the baby girl had been born.

Both the mother and daughter were reported in good condition. The parents asked that they remain anonymous for the program.

Dishes Up Stew

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower, an amateur chef of some note, will personally dish up beef stew to a roomful of luncheon diners in Denver next Monday.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said Wednesday at a meeting of the American Meat Institute and United Fruit and Vegetable Assn. that the President will turn chef to promote sale of meat and vegetables.

Missouri Convicts Start Flaming Riot; 4 Dead, 33 Injured

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A flaming riot at the Missouri State Penitentiary, was quelled today after four convicts were killed, 30 prisoners and three guards injured and at least eight prison buildings destroyed or heavily damaged by fire.

Heavily armed troopers of the Missouri State Highway Patrol moved into the foggy, smoke-begrimed prison this morning.

Within a short time patrol officers reported all the convicts in troubled B and C halls were back in their cells.

Under Control

An hour and a half later, Col. Thomas E. Whitecotton, director of corrections, said the danger of any mass outbreak was definitely past.

He said then the situation was under control and that he expected no further trouble.

"It was the very efficient highway patrol that got the job done, and I want to add that the convicts who lost their lives may have saved hundreds of others and the lives of many citizens."

As the troopers, backed upon the walls and outside the prison by police and National Guardsmen, moved through the tiers they flushed out an injured convict here and there, some apparently seriously injured.

Like A Madhouse

The riot, causing damage estimated by prison officials as near five million dollars was confined within walls of the sprawling penitentiary located in the city, not far from the State Capitol. None of the prisoners was believed to have escaped.

The rioting broke out about 7 p. m. Wednesday night on the third floor of E hall, a maximum security section where incorrigible prisoners are confined in separate cells. How they were released from their cells was not known.

From then on for six hours, officers said the place "looked like a madhouse," with men running, shouting, howling and fighting in the glare of fire from burning buildings.

As guards and state troopers moved in, they were met with a hail of rocks and bricks. Some prisoners were shot.

Three guards were injured. One, Jefferson Gentry, was beaten unconscious by the rioting convicts. Another, Clarence Dietzel, apparently was beaten or thrown from some height. A third, Oscar Carrington, was shot in the foot.

Among the buildings destroyed or damaged as the convicts applied the torch, were three three-story structures. They included the power plant, the prison school, clothing factory, twine building and the factory where car license plates are made.

Democrats Give No. 3 Spot To Roosevelt On New York Ticket

By HENRY LEADER

NEW YORK (AP)—Democrats today hailed the nomination of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. for state attorney general and predicted he would give their ticket a big lift in the Nov. 2 election.

The son of the late President, defeated by Averell Harriman for the gubernatorial nomination, accepted the third slot on the slate Wednesday and was nominated unanimously.

Roosevelt, 40, and Harriman, 62, received rounds of applause when they posed together for cameras.

Wife, 47, Disappears; Carpenter Turns Up With New Bride, 15

DETROIT (AP)—Claude W. Morse, 44, a Canton township carpenter, was held today for "investigation of murder" in the strange disappearance of his wife, missing since Aug. 8.

Sheriff's Detective Edward Love said Morse had married a 15-year-old Tennessee girl since his 47-year-old wife, Verlie, reportedly disappeared on a motor trip through Indiana.

Morse was picked up and detained Wednesday after a neighbor reported to police his return home with a new wife.

Love said Morse told him that he last saw his wife while the couple was motoring to Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 8 to visit relatives.

Morse told him, Love said, that at the intersection of US25 and US31 his wife asked which road led to Kentucky, and that when he stopped and pointed it out she left the car, telling him:

"This is as far as we go together."

He claimed a physician who had been treating his 4-foot-10, 200-pound wife had told him she was irrational, suffered from spells and should not be crossed or irritated.

But Love said the physician told officers he had treated the woman only for overweight.

Love said Morse told him it was while visiting relatives in Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana and Alabama in search of his missing wife that he married Eudena Foster, 15, in LaFollette, Tenn., Sept. 16.

Love said Morse told him that a Tennessee lawyer advised him that his first marriage was void because of discrepancies in the license and that he was free to marry again.

Sen. Ives Nominated For Governor By G.O.P. In New York

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Republicans driving for a fourth straight election sweep in New York state today nominated U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives for governor and State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern for lieutenant governor by acclamation.

They will oppose Averell Harriman and George B. De Luca on the Democratic slate. Harriman is a former mutual security administrator and De Luca is district attorney of the Bronx.

Miners Betrayed By Republicans, McNamara Says

IRONWOOD (AP)—Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, has accused Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson of going "right down the line for all his party's rich-man legislation" and with ignoring "the plight of the iron miner in the Michigan range."

McNamara made his accusations in a campaign speech Wednesday night in which he charged the Republican party with "betrayal of Upper Peninsula workers."

Voters will choose between him and Ferguson in the Nov. 2 election.

McNamara also criticized Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey for attending the celebration marking the unloading of the first iron ore carrier from newly developed mines in Labrador.

"Duty free ore from Labrador fields, selling at $2 to $3 a ton cheaper than Michigan ore, has put thousands of miners out of work," McNamara said.

He also was critical of Rep. John B. Bennett R-Mich., congressman from the 12th Upper Peninsula District, saying that Ferguson and Bennett "have done nothing to protect the livelihood of the people of their own state."

Inn In Maryland Robbed 11 Times

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Wilcom's Inn, which has been so mysteriously tempting to would-be robbers over recent years, has been invaded for the 11th time.

And once again, owner Charles F. Wilcom and his three sons, who get plenty of practice at the game of catching crooks, made a capture.

Wilcom told police Wednesday he and his boys caught one man coming out of the establishment early Monday, but that two others got away with 20 cartons of cigarettes, some change and three antique muskets Wilcom valued at $325.

Before Monday's exploit, the family trapped three men inside the inn and nabbed all three, wounding one seriously with shotgun pellets. And before that they apprehended six burglars in two catches. One of them was wounded and died later while awaiting trial.

Turned over to police after this week's attempt was a man identified as Frederick Deloy Fields of Portsmouth, Ohio.

President Backs Up Congress On Hot Power Issue

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

MCMARY DAM, Ore. (AP)—President Eisenhower, carrying his campaign for another Republican Congress into the Pacific Northwest, declared today any trend toward "conversion of local regions into federal satellites poses a threat deadly to our liberties."

"The administration in Washington—and the present leadership in Congress—are unalterably opposed to such malignant growth of bureaucracy," the President said in defense of administration policy calling for more local participation in development of the nation's power resources.

Huge Dam Dedicated

His views on an issue figuring large in the congressional election campaign were set forth in a major address for ceremonies dedicating the 286 million dollar McNary Dam on the Columbia River here.

Eisenhower called that huge project—built with federal money—"an example of national responsibility properly assumed by the federal government."

Eisenhower, on a four-state flying tour of the Far West, got a rousing welcome on his arrival in this area Wednesday night.

But, he said, "It is not properly a federal responsibility to try to supply all the power needs of our people. The federal government should no more attempt to do so than it should assume responsibility for supplying all their drinking water, their food, their housing and their transportation."

Insurance Risk Inquiry Continues

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Aud. Gen. B. Martin said he intends "to press the present inquiry until those who buy insurance and the insurance industry itself receive the protection which the law provides."

Martin spoke at a Berrien County Republican meeting Wednesday night.

He said that under State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre the public and the insurance industry were not getting the protection they were entitled to. Martin charged last week that the insurance department was permitting unlicensed companies to operate without adequate checks.

In his speech, he said that the law forbids the sale of policies by unlicensed insurance companies except when a risk can not be placed with companies licensed by the state.

"Our audit is still in progress but it has shown already that the commissioner of insurance makes no attempt to determine whether or not insurance sold in unlicensed companies could have been placed with Michigan licensed companies," Martin said.

Butter Surplus Being Cut Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson says the government has stopped accumulating butter under the 75 per cent of parity support price for dairy products.

The government now is disposing of more butter than it buys under the support program, he said, and in August distributed 24 million pounds while buying only 17 million pounds.

If dairy support prices had been raised to 80 per cent of parity, the secretary said, it would have cost the government up to 150 million dollars, reduced butter consumption and given "windfall profits" to persons with butter in storage.

Benson gave his views on the butter situation Wednesday at a news conference.

"The answer is to expand consumption and let the industry stand on its own feet," he said.

Trappers Get 6 Timber Wolves

LANSING (AP)—Trappers bagged six timber wolves in the Upper Peninsula in August, the highest monthly total in several years, the Conservation Department reported today.

Until August, only five of the disappearing animals had been bountied this year. In August, two males and two females were bountied in Alger County, one female was taken in Gogebic County and one male was killed in Luce County.

The storied wolves, which once roamed all of Michigan, are now reduced to a few colonies in the remotest part of the Upper Peninsula.

The state bounty of $20 for each female and $15 for each male has been in effect for more than 100 years, but game biologists believe the advance of civilization, more than the bounty, has been responsible for reducing the species almost to the vanishing point.

Steel Workers Won't Quit CIO

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—David J. McDonald announced today that he had no intention of leading his 1,200,000-member United Steelworkers out of the CIO.

The USW president called for the 3,000 delegates to the steelworkers biennial convention to adopt a resolution aimed at closer "labor unity."

McDonald was cheered as he discounted reports of a conflict with CIO President Walter Reuther and called newspaper stories about a possible withdrawal "figments of their imagination."

"On many policies, Walter Reuther and I do not see eye to eye," McDonald said.

But he said he had told Reuther, also president of the United Auto Workers, that as long as the CIO chief followed the trade union principles of the past he "would have my support."

McDonald said he told Reuther further that "if Reuther tries to change those principles, then he would have to fight me and the steelworkers."

Danielson Leaves Ann Arbor For Year Of Study In France

John D. Danielson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Danielson of Escanaba, will leave Ann Arbor today on his way to Paris, France, for a year of study under a Fulbright scholarship grant. He will sail Saturday from New York on the French liner Flandre.

While in Paris, Danielson plans to visit the families of two natives of France with whom he became acquainted during his vacation at Escanaba this summer. He will renew his acquaintance with Pierre Brohan of Paris, who spent eight weeks in Escanaba at the homes of local Rotarians, and will call on relatives of Mrs. Oliver Gabrielson of Gladstone, who had both Danielson and Brohan as her dinner guests while the students were in this city.

Danielson started his college work at the University of Wisconsin while in the army and on his return from overseas enrolled at Northern Michigan College in Marquette, where he received his bachelor degree. He won his master's degree at the University of Michigan and has been an assistant instructor in French at Ann Arbor while working for his Ph.D. He will continue his studies toward the doctorate degree while in Paris.

Gardens Hit By Killing Frost

Fruit and vegetables that survived last night's frost will be safe until the end of the week. Gardens in Escanaba and potato vines and corn in the Cornell and Brampton areas were hit. Harold Woodward, Cornell said all the tomato plants in his garden were frozen and the sparse growing potato vines were all caught by the frost. Where the vines were heavier there was only about a third as much damage, he added.

Lower Michigan was also shivering under freezing temperatures. Cadillac, the traditional ice box of the lower peninsula lived up to its reputation with a chilly 24 this morning.

While Michigan residents were firing up the furnace and putting more blankets on the bed, Nebraska and Dakota residents were enjoying a 20 degree rise in temperature. Rapid City, S. D. had a sudden spurt of warm weather as people watched the mercury climb steadily from a cool 42 in the morning to a scorching 94 during the day. Tiny Gila Bend, Ariz., an old standby for high temperatures came through with a sizzling 102.

Settlement Reached In Accident Case

The Rasmussen vs. Seaboard Surety Co. case was settled out of court yesterday afternoon shortly before it was to go to the jury. Testimony had been taken for a day and a half before the settlement was reached.

It had been alleged by the plaintiff, Vera Rasmussen, that her husband, Donald Rasmussen, had died of injuries suffered in an accident near the Buck Inn in 1952. It was further charged that the accident was caused by James Tuyls, a Cornell youth, who was driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants which he had obtained at the Al Wiles Tavern.

The plaintiff was suing for loss of support for her son Michael, 3. Seaboard Surety is the Bonding company which had posted a $3,000 bond for Al Wiles as required by state law.

Street Paving Program Should Be Started On Ludington Street

ESCANABA'S street improvement program is moving along at a splendid pace. Great progress has been made in the past several years in hard-surfacing many miles of residential streets that formerly were dirt covered, many with ruts and spring-breakers. It is a program of which the community can well take pride.

And yet no definite program has yet been developed for the repaving of Ludington Street, the community's show window. Escanaba prides itself and justly so in having a main street that is among the widest in the north, 100 feet wide, and a mile and a half long. It carries heavy traffic. But the street is wearing away. A program of patching has kept the street intact but it really needs a whole new resurfacing job.

The project has been delayed apparently because of a lack of agreement concerning the financing of the project. Some officials contend that the project should be financed by a special assessment levied against the adjacent property owners. Others disagree.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

For those of you who have—as we do—one or more teen-agers in the family, the question "What on earth is he (or she) talking about?" rises frequently. Youngsters in their teens have evolved a rather extraordinary jargon of their own—and rare indeed is the parent who can comprehend more than a few words of it. So special attention has been given to parents in the newly compiled glossary of teenage jive talk, THE REAL GONE LEXICON which is now off the presses and on its way to thousands of readers in all parts of the country.

This light-hearted, brash and occasionally impudent little pamphlet contains nearly four hundred words and phrases contributed and defined by over a thousand youngsters from Waterbury, Conn., to San Diego, Calif., and from Windsor, Ontario to Waco, Texas.

Of course it was primarily compiled for the delectation of the youngsters themselves—and do they eat it up! But since we parents ("prehistorics" or "wardens" to our offspring) must also live for a while in the World of Teen Age, THE REAL GONE LEXICON "clues you in" to the mysteries of the language of those who are "turning with the times." This is not to suggest that you try to capture and use their idiom. We "wardens" can only hope to understand them—and we may as well resign ourselves to bewilderment on many an occasion.

For example, if your lad or lassie wants permission for an evening out, you may expect to be asked if it's all right to "take off," "spin the meat grinder," "skip the gutter," or simply, "dig out."

Naturally we parents will all hope they will "skin the path before the warden flips" (get home on time so as not to receive a scolding from mother) and get between the "lily-whites" (in bed) before the "goo-goo watch" (early morning hours). We will, naturally, also remind them to be careful if their jaunt be in a "beast," "draggins' wagon," "goat," "go-cart," "zook wagon," "lakester" or "mill"—all synonyms for auto.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

General Israel Putnam, prominent at the Battle of Bunker Hill, was one example of history's brass who, according to Constance Rourke, had a well-developed acute sense of humor. Engaged in a tavern brawl one night with a British officer over which one had the cooler nerves, "Put" proposed, "See here, General, I've got in the back room two powder kegs. I've bored a hole and inserted a slow fuse in each. I'll light those fuses, and let's you and me sit on those kegs. The fellow who sits longest has the best nerves."

The Redcoat officer didn't like it, but—put on a spot had to agree. He was the first to leave the spot, too, getting out in haste as his fuse burned to within an inch of the keg.

"O! Put" just sat there puffing calmly on his pipe . . . That may have been because he knew both kegs were full of onions.

Jack E. Leonard, commodious comedian, gave a performance at a night club whose guests, he felt, were insufficiently enthusiastic. His exit line was, "Thank you, folks. You've certainly been a grand bunch of seats."

The Doctor Says . . . Antibiotics Offer New Hope To Sufferers Of Nephritis

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Bright's disease, or nephritis, may begin suddenly, either immediately after an acute infection, such as tonsillitis, pneumonia, or scarlet fever, or it may not show up until several months later. Sometimes it develops without any obvious reason.

In acute attacks of nephritis, the symptoms come on rapidly but painlessly. The patient feels uncomfortable and may notice some puffiness under the eyes.

SWELLING OF the lower part of the legs, and perhaps even bloody urine, slight fever and chilly sensations are common. Nose bleeds, headaches, loss of appetite often appear.

The lessened amount of urine and its dark, bloody, or cloudy appearance are characteristic. Chronic nephritis starts more gradually, and symptoms resemble the acute variety, but are less severe. Accumulation of fluid (dropsy or edema) is common.

AS SOON AS diagnosis has been made by means of examining the urine and the blood, treatment should be begun. In acute Bright's disease bed rest is necessary.

Diet is important and is now devised to fit the ability of the kidneys to take care of the food eaten.

In the chronic form of Bright's disease, special attention is given to the accumulation of dropsical fluid. Drugs are frequently used to stimulate the secretion of the urine and thereby remove some of the excessive fluid.

ACCUMULATED FLUID inside the abdomen is often drawn off through a needle. Much improvement has taken place in the treatment of nephritis. In that which follows acute infections, like pneumonia or scarlet fever, new hope is offered by the sulfa drugs and penicillin or other antibiotics. These drugs often stop such infections before they have had a chance to damage the kidneys seriously.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

By this time the President must have heard the post mortems of his close advisers about the Maine elections. They cannot have been cheerful. But while there may be several explanations for the setback, on the main facts there is no argument. The election of a Democrat, Mr. Muskie, as governor can be attributed in large part, perhaps wholly, to the unpopularity of Gov. Cross and to factional differences inside the Republican party. But the sensational decline in the vote for Sen. Margaret Smith and for the Congressmen must be put down chiefly to dissatisfaction among the Maine voters with national conditions.

As a statistical exercise the figures indicate a smashing Republican defeat in November. But that is still in the realm of speculation. What is as certain as anything can be in politics is that the Republicans had better make an agonizing reappraisal of their campaign strategy if they wish to avoid the indicated defeat.

There are two opposed theories of how the Republican party can win in national politics. The one is the theory of the old guard. It was worked out by the late Sen. Taft in his campaign for the nomination in 1952. The other is the theory of the progressive Republicans. It was the working theory of the Eisenhower men, and the most powerful politician who has stood for this theory has been Gov. Dewey.

THE TAIT STRATEGY

The Tait strategy holds that as a matter of fact two things may be taken for granted. One is that the independent vote which went preponderantly to the Democrats after 1932, can not be won over by the Republicans except by making fatal compromises, some of them by betraying Republican principles. The second assumption of the Tait theory is that the Republicans can get a majority big enough to overcome the Democrats plus the independents by an appeal to an alleged mass of Republicans who have been refusing to vote for "me too" Republicans.

The pro-like strategy, on the other hand, holds that the Republicans can win only if they can cut into what is now the normal majority, made up of Democrats plus independents with Democratic leanings. The 1952 elections showed that Eisenhower could cut into that majority. They showed also that the regular Republicans could not cut into that majority; they showed that the Republican Congressional candidates, separated from Eisenhower, did not have a majority even with him at the head of the ticket; that running alone they would have been badly beaten. If factual evidence means anything, the 1952 elections proved overwhelmingly that the Tait strategy is based on a fallacy and that the pro-like strategy is the only one which offers the Republicans a reasonable chance at national—as distinguished from local and regional—victory.

If the Republican party is now in trouble, it is because Gen. Eisenhower has allowed himself to be persuaded too much by politicians who refuse to believe what the 1952 elections showed. One of the most conspicuous of these politicians who does not believe in the 1952 returns is Vice President Nixon. For his notion of how the Republicans can win a national election is to unite the two wings of the Republican party and to denounce the Democrats all along the line.

A MINORITY PARTY

This notion is contrary to the facts of the political situation, and there is no reason to think that it can lead to victory. The first thing that is wrong with it is that the right and left wings of the party are, even when united, still a minority party in the United States. The Republicans in this generation have become the smaller of the two great parties, and in order to win they must do more than unite among themselves. They must attract erstwhile Democrats.

They cannot attract people who have voted for Roosevelt and Truman by charging these people, or by conniving at the charge, that they voted for 20 years of treason or for 20 years of national disgrace and corruption. To ask them to vote Republican after that charge is to make it too hard for the independents; they should not be asked to declare that they were fools or perhaps even knaves.

The necessary votes to give the Republicans a majority can come only from men and women who believe, as millions of them did in 1952, that the fundamental policies they believe in would be served better by a change of party. The Vice President, who has been designated as the official spokesman of the administration, has yet to recognize the Republican problem: which is to attract, not to repel and humiliate, men and women who have voted for Democrats.

DEAR CLEVELAND: TAKE GOOD CARE OF OUR PENNANT (Detroit Free Press)

As this is written, our Detroit Tigers, their claws dulled and their battle growl no more terrifying than a gentle purr, are battling it out for a final position in the league standings somewhere between fourth and sixth place.

That's not very comforting to the fans who remember the brave days of yore when our ball club was either at the top of the heap or close enough to it to make it a contest.

But if we can't claim that championship flag this year, Detroit has one consolation. It's gone to flutter from the flagpole of one of our smaller suburbs. We mean Cleveland, of course. They have a nice little town over there across Lake Erie, they're pleasant folks, and they have a first rate ball team. Their victory is the next best thing to winning ourselves.

We congratulate them on the splendid 1954 showing of their Indians, but we caution them to take good care of that American League pennant. Don't let it get wrinkled or soiled, and keep the moths away from it.

We expect to see it fluttering from the flag staff at Briggs Stadium again before too long and we don't want anything to happen to it.

Newport Of Ancient Romans Uncovered Near Bay Of Naples

PILLARED PATIO OF "COUNTRY CLUB" surrounds swimming pool in ruins of ancient Roman empire's "Newport," now being uncovered at Castellammare di Stabia, Italy. Pool is 100 feet long.

By NEA Foreign Service
CASTELLAMMARE DI STABIA, Italy—(NEA)—A new glimpse of the life of ancient Pompeians is being uncovered by archeologists on a ridge overlooking this town on the Bay of Naples.

It's the 2500-year-old ruins of what was once the Roman empire's "Newport," where experts believe the wealthy bluebloods of Pompeii escaped the summer heat amid spacious villas and a pillared country club whose Greek-style columns are among the finest found in Italy.

The fact that there was such a settlement somewhere in this area was no secret to archeologists. But it took an amateur—Prof. Libero d'Orsi, school principal of Castellammare—to actually locate this one-time resort of the rich.

Now workmen are carefully uncovering the details of the town under the general direction of Amadeo Maiuri, world-famous archeologist of the Naples Museum.

As in Pompeii, the life of the past is revealed with dramatic clarity, since both locations were "embalmed" in the great eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in the year 79.

In Pompeii's "Newport," magnificent frescoes are being found on the walls of villas. There are the remains of elaborate steam baths, and a swimming pool that was a giant for those days.

All are being unburied for a "living museum" as part of Italy's intensified archeological program that is extending old pre-Roman and Roman diggings as well as uncovering entirely new areas.

Civil Defense Headquarters Quietly Moves To Battle Creek

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— One of the government's vital agencies has quietly and quickly slipped out of town—to the surprise of many Washington officials.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration has speedily completed a massive move from the capital to new lodgings in the Percy Jones Army Hospital at Battle Creek, Mich.

More than a million pounds of equipment was trucked 600 miles to the new location in two weeks. The General Services Administration did the job for $160,000.

But the nation's nerve center for attack and disaster is presently in a state of mild confusion, for a lot of unpacking still has to be done.

The exodus to Battle Creek would not have been carried out so hastily had not Congress waited until the last minute before appropriating funds for transfer.

But before the official vote was tabulated, elaborate moving plans were being readied. The FCDA departed so suddenly that many a red-aced bureaucrat had to be told the agency was no longer in Washington.

Around 270 employees decided to stick with the FCDA and live at Battle Creek. Settling these families in homes in time for the youngsters to attend the opening of school after Labor Day was a major problem.

An SOS was sent to the Battle Creek Real Estate Board. The area was combed for homes and now most of the strangers from Washington are in suitable living quarters.

On the first day of business at Battle Creek, the FCDA was called on to handle an emergency. New England had just been hit by a devastating hurricane and President Eisenhower asked Val Peterson, FCDA Administrator, to carry out safety measures.

This meant long distance calls to governors of all New England states, assignment of additional personnel to the storm area and preparation of detailed damage reports. The job was done at the cost of some shattered nerves.

Secretaries and switchboard operators were new, file cabinets were misplaced and numerous crates still had to be opened.

Decentralization is an important part of the country's civil defense program. Thus FCDA authorities decided to set an example and leave Washington, which is a highly critical target area. The law does not allow new government buildings to be constructed, so the vacated hospital was selected.

On the first day of business at Battle Creek, the FCDA was called on to handle an emergency. New England had just been hit by a devastating hurricane and President Eisenhower asked Val Peterson, FCDA Administrator, to carry out safety measures.

This meant long distance calls to governors of all New England states, assignment of additional personnel to the storm area and preparation of detailed damage reports. The job was done at the cost of some shattered nerves.

Secretaries and switchboard operators were new, file cabinets were misplaced and numerous crates still had to be opened.

Decentralization is an important part of the country's civil defense program. Thus FCDA authorities decided to set an example and leave Washington, which is a highly critical target area. The law does not allow new government buildings to be constructed, so the vacated hospital was selected.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE STRAIGHT SHOOTER—The other day a friend of mine from Ford River Township came in to report that Roland Ekstrom, the township clerk, is "certainly a straight shooter."

We agreed that so far as we know all of the township clerks are "straight shooters" and so are all other township, county, state and federal officials.

"You don't understand," said my friend. "Mr. Ekstrom is a straight shooter in other ways, too. He killed a chicken hawk with one shot through the head—with a 22 caliber rifle."

The straight shooting occurred recently at the Ekstrom farm when the hawk came in to raid the flock of chickens. Mr. Ekstrom fired one shot and the chickens were safe—at least until the next hawk came along.

Of course chickens have other enemies, including fox, skunks and weasels. But they, too, would no doubt avoid the Ekstrom farm if they knew its proprietor's reputation as a "straight shooter."

BLACKBOARD TALK—Attending a meeting in Escanaba City Hall the other day we were disappointed to find that someone had erased from a portable blackboard the comments of some unrecognized philosopher.

The blackboard is mounted on a wood stand and is used by speakers and others who want to illustrate their talks with figures, charts or whatever.

Until recently the blackboard carried this bit of wise comment: "I thought that I was unfortunate because I had no shoes, until I met a man who had no feet."

Another quipster had scrawled below the philosophical message: "Kwityerbellen."

But at the recent meeting the blackboard messages had been erased and was now covered with uninspiring numerals and information about kilowatt hours and rate schedules.

NOT THAT SOON—While chatting with L. D. Powell, Iron River district manager for the Upper Peninsula Power Company, we learned that among those who know electric power best, it's still steam generation—with not much hope for atomic energy.

Powell was in Escanaba with John Warden, Houghton, president of the Upper Peninsula Power Company, for a meeting with Escanaba's power advisory committee.

I directed Powell's attention to a recent news story from New York, where Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told the National Association of Science Writers that industry will have electric power from atomic furnaces within 5 to 15 years.

Strauss was quoted as saying that "our children will enjoy in their homes electrical energy too cheap to meter."

But Powell was not too deeply impressed. Coal burning furnaces that produce steam to turn the generators to collect electricity will still be in use for many years to come, he believes.

And should atomic power come into practical use within a period of even a few years, the power industry will avail itself of the new source of energy and use it for the benefit of the consumers, he pointed out.

THE CAUSE OF FIRES—Escanaba Fire Chief Nels Bergeon issued a 12-month fire report the other day. It was a detailed report and some of the information rates a second look, particularly that in connection with the types of fires.

The information is timely because of the National Fire Prevention Week campaign to be held in October. The more you realize that most fires result from human carelessness, the greater may be the caution you exercise in handling fire.

Heading the list of fires in Escanaba were those in brush and grass. It should be noted that in the majority of cases these types of fires are started by children whose parents apparently supply their youngsters with an unlimited number of matches and tell them to go out and burn something.

The second largest number of fires was in homes, as might be expected, because people are in homes more hours than any other place. Not only that, but many homes have faulty heating, wiring, and appliances that need repair to be fire safe.

Unexplainable was the motivation of those persons who turned in 24 false alarms during the year. Fire is a serious business. It destroys lives and property. Turning in a false fire alarm is never a joke—but it is a violation of the law and is punishable by fine and/or jail.

GOOD FEEDING

by AL JOHNSON

NORTHERN FLOUR & GRAIN
ESCANABA, MICH.

A HEALTHY, bright and perky hen will produce the eggs you expect from her, if she gets what she needs from you! For most profitable egg production pullets should be culled and housed when they begin to lay. Be sure the laying house has been cleaned and disinfected just before bringing in the pullets. Allow three square feet of floor space for heavy breeds. For every 100 hens provide a 4-8 inch layer of dry litter along with the equivalent of two 8-foot feeders, one 8-gallon waterer and 20 nests.

EGG PRODUCTION MAY be increased by using artificial lighting to provide a 14-hour feeding day. Forty to sixty watts per 200 square feet of floor space is usually recommended. Feed intake may also be increased by feeding wet mash or noon feeding of pullets. Provide the birds with limestone grit or oyster shells and insoluble grit. Keep plenty of fresh water in clean fountains before the birds at all times.

TO KEEP CHICKENS thrifty and help layers produce as nature intended, start feeding Occident Layer Feed before egg production time rolls around. With its liberal supplies of egg-making nutrients, it keeps layers at top production.

FEED IT 50-50 with farm grains, putting it in self-feeders if you want, but hand-feeding the grain to prevent overeating. About three-fourths of the scratch grains should be fed in the evening. This assures plenty of available feed when the birds start looking for it the following morning. Remainder of the grain can be fed in the morning. Feed only what the birds clean up . . . reduce the grain fed if the birds become too fat. Increase it if birds are thin.

Ford And Chevrolet Rivalry To Reach Climax Next Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Auto Editor
DETROIT (AP)—Most auto industry experts are predicting the fight between Ford and Chevrolet for top honors in production and sales will reach the slugging stage next year.

For varying reasons the battle this year has been a see-saw affair. At the end of this year's first six months Ford was ahead of Chevrolet in retail deliveries by 8,725 units. By the end of seven months Chevrolet led Ford by 926 registrations.

Production Stepped Up
Next year will bring several new factors into the competition between these two automotive giants. Ford will have greatly increased production capacity to build a car with substantial styling and engineering changes. Chevrolet, which has been pushing one of its biggest plant expansion programs this year, will have an entirely new model. The line will include a V-8 engine car for the first time in the company's 43-year history.

So the ground work is being completed for a competitive battle the like of which the auto industry never has experienced before. As the experts view it there isn't much danger of Ford or Chevrolet being severely hurt; rather the fight could hurt other companies seeking a market in the Chevrolet-Ford price areas.

Chrysler Changes Drastic
Chevrolet and Ford together account for approximately one-half of the industry's over-all retail sales.

Ford has just put its Thunderbird model into volume production. This is the model described as Ford's "answer" to Chevrolet's Corvette sports model car. The production program calls for assembly of 10,000 of the Thunderbird units.

Sharing interest with the Chevrolet-Ford fight in 1955 will be Chrysler's effort to recapture some of the sales volume it lost this year. Chrysler's production and sales this year total about half of last year's volume.

The Chrysler styling and engineering changes will be about as drastic as any of the company ever has undertaken. All lines of the Chrysler cars will be entirely new. It is understood, too, that the Plymouth line will boast a new V-8 engine.

Crime Growing, Hoover Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover says crime in America will reach a record high this year if the present rate keeps up.

Hoover gave this estimate in reporting Wednesday night that the national crime rate for the first half of 1954 climbed 8.5 per cent over last year's level during the same period.

In the semiannual issue of the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, compiled from police reports from across the nation, Hoover said 1,136,140 major crimes were committed in January-June of this year.

That's 88,850 more than a year ago and figures out to a major crime every 13.8 seconds.

The FBI summary said robbery increased 20.4 per cent between the two periods, burglaries 13.2 per cent, larceny 9 per cent and murders 0.9 per cent. It said the aggravated assault rate showed no change.

Rape offenses were listed as declining 1.2 per cent, auto theft down 2.3 per cent and negligent manslaughter down 3.9 per cent.

During 1953, Hoover added, police settled by arrest 75.5 per cent of all crimes against the person—such as murder, rape, negligent manslaughter and aggravated assault.

But on property crimes, he said, only 22.9 per cent were solved and arrests made.

Traitors Were Busy Under Democrats, Says Sen. Dirksen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told 1,100 Republican women Wednesday night that "never were the destroyers and traitors in government so busy" as during the 20 years of Democratic rule.

He said it has been no picnic for the Republicans to seek out "the wreckers and destroyers, the security risks and homosexuals, the blabbermouths and drunks, the traitors and saboteurs" in government.

Sen. Dirksen, chairman of the National Republican Senatorial Committee for the fall elections, addressed the convention of the National Federation of Republican Women, terming them the "greatest moral, spiritual and political force in the land."

Most of his speech was devoted to lambasting Democrats past and present, including Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today for the third straight time to its third straight new high.

Gains in the early afternoon were moderate for the most part. The best usually were around a point although some stocks showed better strength.

Trading hit a pace near Wednesday's 2,260,000 shares.

The market was higher from the start and kept going up gradually with occasional peppers of profit-taking.

Union Pacific was quite strong up between three and four points at times. Also higher were Royal Dutch Petroleum, Pan American World Airways, American Telephone, Armco Steel, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, Radio Corp., Standard Oil of California, and Texas Co.

U. S. government bonds drifted lower.

Two Triplet Boys Beat Stork Going To Ludington Hospital

LUDINGTON, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Alberta Bidwell won her race with the stork Wednesday only because she had triplets.

Two of the three boys—Tom, Dick and Harry—arrived under far from orthodox conditions. Tom was born in an automobile on the way to the hospital. Dick was born in an elevator on the way to the delivery room. Harry was more leisurely. He awaited a clinical reception and came into the world via the hospital delivery room.

Doctors put two of the babies in to an incubator. Tom—huskiest of the three—was doing all right on his own. Both mother and babies were said to be doing fine.

Mrs. Bidwell, 32, and her husband, Velmar, 35, have five other children, two sons and three daughters, ranging in age from two to 13. The father is a driver-salesman.

Salesman Murders Woman; Kills Self In His Flaming Car

MCARTHUR, Ohio. (AP)—An elderly novelty salesman killed a woman at nearby Prattsville, then shot and cremated himself, investigators reported Wednesday.

The salesman, William H. Frantz, 64, of McArthur, poured gasoline on his car, got in, set the car afire and shot himself, Sheriff William Brown said. Frantz set the fire after leaving the general store where the body of the owner, Mrs. Clyde Peters, was found behind a counter Tuesday.

Mrs. Peters, 54, the mother of six children, was shot three times. Brown said Frantz had tried to borrow 50 cents from two of Prattsville's 46 residents before he went into the store. He said Frantz probably shot Mrs. Peters when she, too, turned down his request.

Family Bible Hour At Rock Will Sponsor Contests

ROCK—The Family Bible Hour which is conducted each Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Rock Town Hall by John Small is launching the various contests held annually during the fall and winter months.

A free week at the Upper Peninsula Bible camp next summer is one of the prizes being offered to all students who maintain an average of five points each week until next June. A pupil receives one point for being present, another for bringing his Bible, and three points for memorizing a Bible verse related to the lesson of the week. They may also add to their score by bringing new scholars and members to the Bible Hour.

Another prize will be awarded to the boy and girl having the highest score by the end of May, 1955. They will be able to select their reward from a number of valuable gifts.

Similar contests are being held in Sunday Schools at Forsythe and Turin. Competition between Sunday schools is encouraged by the promise of treat each month for the community gaining the highest score for that month.

As an additional incentive to induce both young and old to attend these meetings, a new full-sized American Society Bible will be offered to any one who attends the Family Bible Hour for five consecutive Sundays. Students not having a Bible may thus earn their Bible.

Services are open to the public. No offerings are taken.

The Rock High School will welcome fruit or vegetable donations from persons having an extra supply. The school buses may be able to pick up donations if brought to the bus line, or they may be delivered to the school by the individual.

Mrs. John Selin who submitted to surgery at Rochester will remain there for about two weeks. She is in Room 204 of the Methodist Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Selin have returned to Rock.

Mrs. Clayton Kanerva, the former Mildred Wadeen, and son Larry arrived from Fairbanks, Alaska, to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Art Wadeen. They came by plane to Chicago by way of Seattle. Her husband, who has been in the armed forces at Fairbanks, will receive his discharge in about a month.

Picketing Quieted At Square D Plant By 200 Policemen

DETROIT (AP)—Quiet prevailed today at the long-struck Square D Co. plant as 200 policemen patrolled the area under court orders to use "all necessary force" to prevent mass picketing or violence.

Skirmishes in which at least eight persons have been injured have broken out intermittently since the company began promoting a back-to-work movement Sept. 2 to break a strike of its 1,200 members of the independent United Electrical Workers.

The strikers walked out 101 days ago when contract negotiations broke down. Company insistence on an iron-clad no-strike clause has held up a settlement.

Company and union negotiators reported "progress" in an overnight bargaining session.

Army Investigates 22 At Ft. Devens Listed As Friends Of Reds

FORT DEVENS, Mass. (AP)—The Army says it is investigating 22 officers and enlisted men to determine if they will be charged with conspiring with Communists while in Korean prisoner of war camps.

A high Army official who didn't want his name used said Wednesday night the possible charges against the men range from conducting unbecoming officers to attempting to curry favor with the enemy to gain extra food, clothing and privileges.

All the men involved are stationed at Ft. Devens, either as hospital patients or in an unassigned status.

No names were released.

President Backs Up GOP Record On Public Power

in Missoula and a rip-roaring one on his arrival in Walla Walla, Wash., where he spent the night. In his Missoula speech Eisenhower continued to follow the pattern of restrained campaigning which he announced months ago he would stick to.

He still refrained from plugging on the road for individual Republican candidates, but he did refer to "my good friend Wes" after GOP Rep. Wesley d'Ewart had introduced him. But he said nothing about d'Ewart's candidacy for the Senate. He is running against the veteran Democratic incumbent, Sen. James M. Murray.

In Missoula, most of the President's off-the-cuff speech was devoted to praise of the Agriculture Department's Forest Service, which was dedicating a new forest fire aerial control depot.

No Federal Meddling
Near the end of his brief talk the President turned to what he called the "basic policy" of his administration.

Defining that policy, he said: "It is the intense belief that every citizen of the United States has a part to play in keeping this country great, and that we are not wards of a centralized federal system, that the federal system is set up by the people to help, when help is indicated for us, but that each citizen in his own right is better qualified to look after himself than is some bureaucrat in far-off Washington.

"... never will we desert any section or any people who, through no fault of their own, faces disaster and needs the help of central government. And by the same token, never will we step across that line that permits unwarranted federal intrusion into your lives."

That, said Eisenhower, was the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln, the first Republican President, "and never has a better philosophy for America been stated."

Counties In Red Have Unused Tax Bases, Says State Auditor

LANSING (AP)—Most of the Michigan counties which had operating deficits last year have plenty of unused taxing base to remedy the situation, Aud. Gen. John B. Martin said today.

Martin reported that 34 counties had operating deficits of $3,530,000 while the other 49 had surpluses of $2,930,000. This left a net deficit for all counties of $700,000, compared to $4,050,000 in 1952.

He said that of the 34 with deficits in 1953, 22 had surpluses in 1952 to offset the losses in 1953.

But he noted that most of the 34 counties with operating deficits "were among those with the lowest county equalized valuations."

New Armed Forces Laboratory Grim Building, Atomic Proof

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Threat of an atomic or hydrogen bomb attack is giving modern architecture the grim, windowless look of sturdy, blockhouse type buildings. One of the best examples of this new trend is the nearly completed eight-story Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, on the grounds of the Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington.

GRIM, WINDOWLESS WALLS of new Armed Forces Institute of Pathology are built to withstand the blast of nuclear attack.

Far from an architect's dream of beauty, this all concrete medical research center looks more like a throwback to the rugged forts built 150 years ago as protection against Indians. The Institute is the first medical building in the country constructed to withstand the desolations of a nuclear attack.

Despite its gray, dull appearance, any television star would jump at the chance to work in the up-to-date TV studio inside the Institute which is to be used for medical purposes. There are also two auditoriums and numerous laboratories behind the building's formidable 12-to-16-inch walls.

Construction started two years ago and by the time the last Bunsen burner is connected this fall the cost will come to around $6 million. Doctors have been working hand in hand with the architects since the beginning. The result is one of the best equipped laboratories in the world.

In order to get to the third floor of the Institute, it's necessary to take an elevator down one flight. Only five of the eight stories are above the surface and the lowest part of the structure is 50 feet below the ground.

The south side is especially constructed to hold up against a blast. Its thicker walls are made to resist 14,520 tons of positive pressure. Architects figured that if a bomb was dropped in downtown Washington repercussions from the explosion would be sure to hit this section first.

Huge metal doors which roll on tracks can partition off the most sensitive part of the building in case of an emergency.

The Army's Corps of Engineers and the Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks are experimenting with protective anti-nuclear structures.

As yet no such work is being done by non-government concerns. But many new department YOUNG EAGLE—This dour-looking creature is a bald eaglet, though obviously too young to be bald. He was found in a nest in the northern lower peninsula. Conservation department field workers scaled a 75-foot tree to band and photograph him. It will probably be another three years before the characteristic white head plumage appears on this youngster.

stores, offices and factories have swung in the direction of heavy structures and a minimum amount of window space. Notable examples are Foley's Department Store in Houston, Tex., and the Lincoln Arc Welding Co. in Cleveland, Ohio.

But these monolithic edifices pose one major problem: despite the interior cooling and lighting, employees tend to feel closed in if they cannot see the sky and out-of-doors.

There is still a strong trend toward light all glass, United Nations type buildings. How great an effect the atomic age will have on this optimistic style remains to be seen. But the course of world events will certainly be changing the blueprints of tomorrow.

12 EXTRA LOAVES
from every 50 lb. sack
of KING MIDAS

HERE'S WHY! King Midas is different from ordinary all-purpose flours—different in quantity and quality of protein. It has extraordinary baking "strength," and users have long known that it actually goes farther.

HERE'S HOW! The King Midas recipe calls for 10 cups of flour to make 4 loaves of bread. Allowing an additional 1/2 cup flour per batch for kneading, that means, a 50-pound sack of King Midas will make 76 loaves.

Now check any recipe recommended for another flour. Chances are that it calls for 12 cups of flour—maybe more—to make 4 loaves of bread. Allowing an additional 1/2 cup flour per batch for kneading, that means, a 50-pound sack of the other flour will make 64 loaves—a difference of 12 fewer loaves for you to eat.

You can prove it in your kitchen!

Buy 25 or 50 pounds of King Midas. Bake with it, using our regular bread recipe. Please do not use more flour than is called for. Automatically you'll get 76 loaves of bread from 50 pounds of King Midas—38 loaves from 25 pounds.

Richness in protein makes the difference. To get this richness we mill King Midas from costly premium wheats—such as hard red spring wheat noted for protein quality. Because it goes farther, King Midas costs you less in the long run than lower priced, lower protein flours.

King Midas HIGH PROTEIN
Milled from Costlier Premium Wheat

HIGH PROTEIN KING MIDAS

Gives you other advantages:

1. King Midas dough is easy to work with, less sensitive than dough made with low protein flour. For this reason, it can tolerate some error in judgment, timing and temperature. It is the perfect flour for home bakers to use.

2. Women baking with King Midas often remark that their bread stays fresh so long. It actually does stay fresh longer than bread baked with lower protein flour. The extra protein helps to hold freshness.

NO CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

South was guilty of "taking complete charge of the bidding" in the following deal, but in view of the result, his partner could well afford to forgive him.

South was a well-known master, while North was a weak player, and so the following bidding was not as remarkable as it may seem:

North East South West
1♦ Pass 6 NT (1) Pass
Pass Pass

Actually, South's abrupt leap to six notrump was not a stretch in sofar as his values were concerned. North's opening bid was extremely skimpy—and even with so few high cards to work with in dummy, South would have had clear sailing on any other lead than the one West selected, namely a heart. This lead, however, knocked out dummy's entry before South could unblock the diamond king. South tried the heart nine at the first trick, but East won and returned the suit.

South was tempted at this point to try for a double finesse in spades, because he would apparently need three spade tricks, with three diamonds, four hearts and two clubs, to round out the contract. On second thought, however, he decided that it was more remote to find the king and jack of spades in East's hand than to play for a squeeze. So he took the single spade finesse, to the queen and when it held he cashed the spade ace and ran his hearts, discarding three clubs from dummy.

This sequence of plays was too much for West. Forced to hold four diamonds so that when the king was overtaken the fourth diamond in dummy would not be good, he had to give up two clubs, and South's third club became the fulfilling trick.

THE STORY: Private Detective Jim Dunn and his wife Nancy have been retained in the double role of detective and bodyguard of Mrs. Kit Carlson at the estate of Mrs. Kit Carlson in Colorado. Jim is not sure what he is expected to do beyond determining that Mrs. Kit is innocent of a sudden death that might be murder on the West Coast. Mrs. Kit believes her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hilton Carlson, is attempting to bring suspicion on her.

Jim Dunn kicked down what stumps he could find, loaded the jeep with dead and half-rotten logs whose chief virtue was that they gave the appearance of wood.

One branch road led down to the Carlson Castle, but Jim did not travel far along it. But he did get an excellent bird's-eye view of the huge place, with its swimming pool nestling back of a slight curve of the huge separating cliff, Lion's Head.

Jim estimated it was a good three miles by twisting road between the two places even though it was only a few hundred yards by water. Certainly the sheer drop of the base of Lion's Head seemed to preclude any path along the shore.

On his return to The Spires, he found that Toby Argyle had delivered a load of pitch. Heavy, sticky chunks which were freight even in the pile by the basement door.

He found, too, that Nancy was having an audience with Kit Carlson. She was on the porch, no longer wearing her veil, while Nancy, in her "dark and dowdy" outfit, stood on the lowest step.

"Yes, mom," Nancy said, as Jim began to toss pieces of wood from the jeep. "Thank you for telling me about the rouge. Thank you, I'm sure." She would not meet Jim's eyes as she hurried away.

Mrs. Carlson summoned Jim regally.

"I was quite mistaken about your nice little wife," she said. "I am pleased, because I take it as a sign of our good judgment.

In getting the correct person for the job at hand, And I am glad to see you enter into the spirit of the thing. Pretending to gather wood."

Dunn looked at the pile of stuff in the jeep. He could hardly call it wood, but he wouldn't have called the labor necessary for its gathering pretense either. He said slowly, "I think you'd better tell me what you're afraid of."

"You're right, I suppose. But this doesn't seem the place to talk. I believe someone at the other house is watching us through binoculars. And—Mr. Dunn! There is someone coming. Do something about it." The front door slammed behind her.

Dunn looked around, had to walk beyond the corner of the house before he saw anyone, before he saw the figure walking along the boulder-strewn side of the creek which spilled from the hole in the cliff. He knew he was seen, but he also was completely disregarded, as the woman knelt on the creekbank.

He stood above her, said, "You're trespassing, you know." She turned her head, glared at him from small jet-black eyes which were heavily outlined by wrinkles.

He saw she was very old, had attained the age reached by so many Colorado women where they appear indestructible. She hissed at him, "quiet fool!"

Dunn saw her arms were immersed deeply in the icy water.

"The expression on her face changed from malevolence to ward Jim to the thrill and excitement of the chase. She moved suddenly and a 12-inch trout flopped on the grass of the sloping bank.

"There now," she said. She got stiffly to her feet, picked up the trout and did something which immediately stilled its frantic struggle. Her arms were bright purple with the cold of the water, and the knobs of her knuckles looked painful. "Heard it could be done," she gloated. "And I did it. You see, this way when you get a trout it's not damaged."

"It's dead enough," Jim said. "What do you want?" she demanded.

"I work here. You're trespassing, you know."

"Hah. You going to make something of it?"

"I suppose," Jim said thoughtfully. "I could turn you over my knee and give you a spanking."

She glared at him a moment and then her mouth opened to emit a cackle. Her old-fashioned false teeth slipped and moved with the sound. She said, "You and who else?"

"Where do you live?" Jim asked.

She waved the limp trout toward the other side of the lake.

"What are you going to do with the trout now you have it?"

"Stuff it!" she snapped.

At first, Jim thought the words were a suggestion or a command. He had a second thought and asked, "You're a taxidermist?"

She was no longer looking at him, but over her shoulder.

"Ready now, Philip," she said.

Jim turned around. The smiling man, Philip, completely outfitted in a chauffeur's uniform and shiny boots stood a few paces away. Beyond, looking immense on the narrow road, a limousine sat gleaming in the sunlight.

Philip looked at Jim as if he were one of the things Dunn had found earlier under rotten logs.

"Is this person annoying you, Mrs. Oswald?"

She handed Philip the limp fish. "How could he?" she wanted to know as she was helped into the car.

Jail Elevator
Foils Escapers

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A bold attempt to break out of Cabell County jail was thwarted by police Tuesday night in 22 action-packed minutes.

The would-be jail breakers used a heavy steel table leg to pry open an inner cell door on the fifth floor. When Deputy Jailer Lakin Rowsey and a trusty prisoner opened an outer door, they were pounced on and tossed into a cell.

Rowsey's call for help was heard by Jailer William Moses on the ground floor. Moses telephoned for reinforcements, then rushed to the elevator.

When encountered by the armed Moses, the prisoners shut the elevator door and started up again. Moses ordered another trusty to cut off the electric power and the elevator stopped between the first and second floors.

Using controls in the jail office, Moses brought the elevator back to the first floor and the six stepped out under gunpoint. One tried to run but was subdued with a mace.

Soldier Of 1918 Gets His Old Hat Back

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — City Clerk Harold Fisher was issued a uniform for his role in the "World War I" scene of the Lawrence Centennial Pageant.

The old style campaign hat fitted perfectly. Inside it Fisher found the initials he placed in a hat issued to him by the Army in 1918.

Fisher doesn't know how the hat got into the costume department of the John B. Rogers Co. that is staging the pageant, but he is sure it is his old hat.

Detroit Blames Speeding On Spitbombs

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph H. Lapointe, 31, was fined $65 Tuesday by traffic Referee John M. Wise despite a plea he was speeding to avoid being spitbombed in his top-down convertible.

Lapointe said a gang of boys perched on a bridge over the Lodge Expressway spit on him as he drove under the bridge.

"I stepped my car from 55 to 75 to get out of range," he said. "Their aim was deadly."

HIGHEST NAVAL RANK

Highest rank ever created in the United States Navy was that of Admiral of the Navy, created in 1899 for George Dewey. The rank expired upon his death in 1917.

Chickens Roost On Ice Blocks

WELCH, Okla. (AP)—After losing 404 broiler chickens to the extreme heat, flock owner S. A. Phillips decided to keep the birds on ice. The loss dropped from 250 one day to only four the next after he placed six 300-pound blocks of ice in his brooder houses. The birds used the cool cakes for a roost.

Hunting License Record Foreseen

LANSING (AP)—The Conservation Department said it expects a record number of hunters in the field this fall. The total of licensed hunters is expected to climb two to three per cent over last year.

Department officials estimated 750,000 Michigan residents will hunt small game during the season which gets under way Oct. 1 in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula.

The bulk of these expected to take the field Oct. 20 when the southern Lower Peninsula is opened to pheasant and other small game hunting.

Some 30,000 resident and 3,000 non-resident bow and arrow deer hunters were expected during the archery season which starts statewide Oct. 1.

The firearms deer season, Nov. 15 through Nov. 30, was expected to attract 455,000 resident hunters and 30,000 non-residents. Meanwhile, officials said application forms for permits to hunt in the Dec. 1 any-deer season now in the hands of license dealers, must be mailed to the Conservation Department in Lansing by Oct. 10.

Successful applicants for the 81,000 permits to be issued north of M-35 in the northern Lower Peninsula will be chosen by lot.

Great Lakes Boat Theft Ring Cracked

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—With the recovery of two stolen cabin cruisers, police were hopeful that they had started to crack a $100,000 boat theft ring on the Great Lakes.

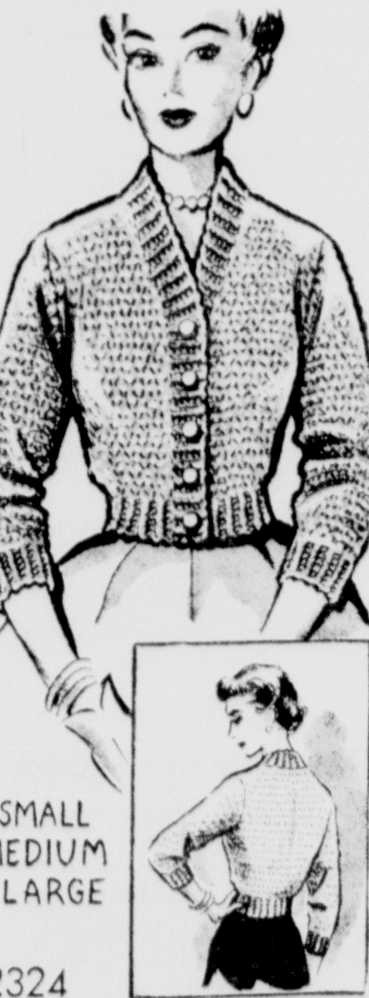

The two cruisers, found at commercial anchorages here Tuesday, were identified by Police Chief Andrew B. Davis of Riverview, Mich., who said the boats had been stolen there this summer. The craft were valued at $3,000 each.

Police said the anchorage fees had been paid in advance by unidentified persons who claimed to be the owners.

Davis said about 40 boats in the $1,000-$5,000 class had been stolen this summer from ports between here and Detroit. He said the thieves apparently had perfected a system whereby the boats were moved quickly to different ports and sold.

Killing Of Many Dogs Is Needless

A plea against the often needless destruction of dogs is made this week by Miss Rhoda Wickwire, public health nurse.

Whenever someone is bitten by a dog there is usually a clamor for the life of the dog in the belief that the animal is afflicted with rabies, says Miss Wickwire. If the dog is really rabid its destruction is, of course, mandatory, and if it is a vicious animal there is little justification for its being around. Her plea, she says, is for the playful family pet that in excitement of rough play "nips" a child.

Any dog that has bitten someone should be tied up for a period of ten days and watched for any symptom of rabies, she states. If symptoms of rabies do develop, the dog should be killed by the police and the head sent to the state laboratory in Lansing for microscopic examination.

When a person is bitten he should be taken immediately to a physician and receive the necessary care. The bite of a rabid dog can transmit this disease to the one bitten and when once the disease is fatal, says Miss Wickwire.

Mrs. Jos. Dott
Passes Away

Mrs. Celina Marie Dott, 63, of 123 North Fifth St., a long-time resident of this city, died late Tuesday evening at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. She had been ailing since last November and her condition took a sudden turn for the worse about five days ago.

Mrs. Dott, nee Bouckout, was born on May 16, 1891 at Thiel, Belgium, and came to this country in 1907, settling shortly after her arrival in Manistique. She was married to Mr. Dott in 1910 and they have lived here continuously since that time.

She was a member of St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church. Surviving her are her husband and her mother, Mrs. Emily Bouckout.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at St. Francis de Sales Church at 9. The body will lie in state at the Messier-Broullire Funeral Home beginning this evening at 7:30, when friends may call. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home Friday evening at 8. Burial will be made in Fairview Cemetery.

Local Legionnaires
To Be Hosts At District Meeting

Manistique Post No. 83 of the American Legion and its Auxiliary will be host Sunday afternoon to a district meeting of that organization.

This will be one of a series of meetings of this sort to be held throughout the 11th District preliminary to the fall conference to be held at Newberry. The purpose of this meeting is to sound local sentiment and check up on matters affecting ex-servicemen in the area and thus form a basis for discussions to come up before the Newberry meeting.

State Commander Kent Landgren, of Menominee, is expected to be present and will address the gathering.

The meeting will be held at the Legion Club rooms and will start promptly at 2.

A pot luck supper will be served by the Auxiliary at 5 p. m. Sunday. Rolls, coffee, sugar and cream will be furnished.

KIDNEYS
EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. In This Corner
With Ray Crandall

First bowling note of the new season is an impressive one... The Lundmark team of the Gladstone Monday Night league blasted the remarkable total of 2910 pins, highlighted by a 1022 game... Allan Gillis spilled a 630 series, Charley Lundmark a 619 count, Ray Wahowiak 585, Jim Reese 551 and Larry Cantin 525... The big blast marked the most successful opening night ever at the Gladstone alleys.

A steady diet of offensive drill has been the menu for the Escanaba Eskimo gridders... Considerably battered in the rugged battle at Green Bay last week, the Eskey gridders can use the open weekend coming up to prepare for the Menominee game Saturday night, Oct. 2, at Menominee... The Maroons annually provide Escanaba with one of its toughest games.

Up at Sault Ste. Marie where the Detroit Red Wings are working out, a hundred candidates have been striving for three open spots in the lineup... New coach Jimmy Skinner and manager Jack Adams are carefully scanning the prospects... A new NHL ruling will allow teams to dress 18 players in all games up to Dec. 1, at which time the squads must be trimmed to 16.

Considering its size, we'd say the Upper Peninsula was well represented on Big Ten football teams... There are eight former Upper Peninsula high school athletes listed on the official Big Ten rosters... They are Paul Baldwin, Escanaba, at Michigan; Bob Gingrass, Iron Mountain; Ken Hofer, Wallace; and Jerome Cveugros, Ironwood, at Wisconsin; Buck Nyström, Marquette, and Loren Wall, Menominee, at Michigan State; Brock Strom, Ironwood, and Bob McNamara, Manistique, at Indiana... McNamara recently withdrew from school.

Fourth Place Battles Rage In Both Leagues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four teams still have a monetary interest in their final major league standings... It's based on the approximate $750 share per player of the World Series money for members of the fourth-place teams in each league.

Fourth place involves quite a battle in both leagues. In the National only a game separates Cincinnati, now in fourth from the fifth-place Philadelphia Phillies. Boston leads Detroit by a game and a half in the American League.

The Redjacks have just two games left and the Phillies have six to play.

Reds Protest Loss

Cincinnati still is screaming about a 3-1 loss in Milwaukee Wednesday when a ninth inning rally was brought to an abrupt end by a freak double play.

With runners on first and second and one out, pinch-hitter Bob Borkowski struck out on a wild pitch. While catcher Del Crandall chased the ball, Gus Bell dashed from second to third and Borkowski headed for first in a hurry since if the catcher drops a third strike he usually has to throw out the batter at first.

Crandall threw to third baseman Eddie Mathews in a vain attempt to catch Bell and Mathews fired across the diamond when he saw Borkowski racing for first. His throw hit Borkowski in the back and rolled into right field and Bell scored from third.

Umps Make Ruling

Then the umpires took over. After an 18-minute conference they ruled Borkowski was out automatically on his strikeout since first base had been occupied. Then they ruled Borkowski had interfered with the attempt to catch Bell because he drew a throw to first. The rules say in this case the other runner, Bell, is out. The two outs ended the game and the Reds filed a formal protest.

There was no room for protests at Philadelphia where the Phils walloped Pittsburgh twice, 12-1 and 5-1. Robin Roberts won his 22nd game, a four-hitter, in the nightcap.

Detroit beat Baltimore 4-1 on Steve Gromek's four-hitter and Boston wasn't scheduled.

Indians Tie Record

In other action the American League champion Cleveland Indians equalled a 27-year-old record for the most games won by beating Chicago 3-1 for their 10th victory. The National League champion New York Giants bowed 3-0 to rookie Karl Spooner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who set a major league record by striking out 15 in his first start in the Big Time.

The New York Yankees defeated Washington 3-0 with Tommy Byrne winning his third game as the Yanks came up with a triple play, fifth in the majors this season.

Brooks Lawrence won his 14th game for the St. Louis Cardinals, checking the Chicago Cubs 6-3 on five hits. Two of the three Cub runs came on a fifth-inning homer by pitcher Dave Cole.

Don Mossi, a rookie used mostly in relief, and Al Smith combined their talents in the Cleveland victory. Mossi shut out the White Sox through the first eight innings and Smith drove in two of the three Indian runs with a double in the second inning and a triple in the fourth.

Spooner, just up from Fort Worth of the Texas League, held the Giants to three singles, only one of them a hard hit ball. He fanned six in a row at one point and broke Cliff Melton's old rookie strikeout record of 13.

Claassen Goes With Irish And Spartans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's hoping the 1954 "broom" sweeps as well the second time around as it did last week when 27 of 31 outcomes were correctly forecast. That's an average of .871 — too good to last.

This weekend's picks:

Notre Dame over Texas: Terry Brennan makes his debut as the Notre Dame coach and that is just too bad for Texas. If they met again later in the season one would have to pick the Longhorns but this opener is Notre Dame's.

Michigan State over Iowa: Iowa has one good team, Michigan State three. This is the game on TV.

Southern California over Pittsburgh: The Trojan trio of backs — Dandoy, Arnett and Clarke — are too much for the Easterners.

Oklahoma over TCU: Oklahoma showed massive power in its outing at California.

Illinois over Penn State: Penn State is strong in the line and at end but lacks backfield strength. Illinois has everything, including J. C. Caroline.

Michigan over Washington: The West Coast team beat Utah by only a single point.

Mississippi over Kentucky: Kentucky hasn't the horses this year and Mississippi rated one of the best in the nation.

These others without comment:

FRIDAY NIGHT
Denver over Drake.

SATURDAY
EAST
Brown over Columbia, Duke over Pennsylvania, Army over South Carolina, Cornell over Colgate, Dartmouth over Holy Cross, Navy over William & Mary.

SOUTH
Auburn over Chattanooga, Clemson over Georgia, Georgia Tech over Florida, Alabama over LSU, Tennessee over Mississippi State, Tulane over Memphis State, North Carolina over North Carolina State.

MIDWEST
Minnesota over Nebraska, UCLA over Kansas, Ohio State over Indiana, Purdue over Missouri, Wisconsin over Marquette, Northwestern over Iowa State, Colorado over Colorado A&M.

FAR WEST
College of Pacific over Washington State, Oregon State over Idaho, Oregon over Stanford, Kansas State over Wyoming.

SOUTHWEST
Baylor over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma A&M over Texas A&M.

Terry Sawchuk Has 'Grown Up'

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Goalie Terry Sawchuk looks sure, steady and confident during workouts in Detroit Red Wings' training camp.

This is a complete change from last year at this time, when Sawchuk had a mission: He had to prove to his teammates, and to himself, that he could stand up under pressure. Sawchuk had cracked badly in the 1953 playoffs and the Red Wings were eliminated in a stunning upset.

Sawchuk took the blame but vowed it wouldn't happen again. It hasn't.

Sawchuk was brilliant throughout the 1953-54 season, missing by a single goal of being the No. 1 netminder in the league.

Now a married man he's relaxed player. As one of the Red Wings put it: "Terry had grown up, both on and off the ice."

U. P. Writers Are Unanimous In Pick Iron River Redskins No. 1 Choice In Upper Peninsula

Iron River Redskins were the darlings of Upper Peninsula football this week as U. P. Sports Writers Association gave them a blanket backing for the No. 1 spot.

It was the third straight week that the Redskins remained in the top bracket and the first week for a unanimous choice.

Sault Ste. Marie Bluffs Devils, after flirting with the top three for three weeks, moved into undisputed second place, with only one vote spoiling their chances for a straight second choice.

Stambaugh was a solid third, Iron Mountain a solid fourth and the Menominee Maroons, after winning the first game this week from Janesville, Wis., were ranked a solid fifth.

The top ten: (Total votes in brackets)

1—Iron River (60)
2—Sault Ste. Marie (53)
3—Stambaugh (48)
4—Iron Mountain (41)
5—Menominee (27)
6—Kingsford (23)
7—Wakefield (22)
8—Ironwood (15)
9—Manistique (12)
10—Bessemer (11)

Also receiving votes: Newberry (8), Negaunee (5), Houghton (2), Escanaba Catholic Central (2), Gladstone (1).

Bumped out of the top 10 this week were Munising, which lost to Gladstone, 19 - 12, and Escanaba Central, which bowed to Stambaugh, 27-19.

Climbing into the select 10 this week were Menominee Maroons, who won the season's opener at Janesville, 19 - 0, and Bessemer, which gained a 1-1 record by turning back Calumet.

The combination of Eddie Vergara and Jerry Gallagher, Iron River's one-two backfield punch, plus the fine work of Gene Tomassucci, 220-pound tackle, has kept the Redskins in the thick of the fight. Iron River scored two touchdowns on the first three plays against Norway and then kept right on going.

Irish Switch To Break-Away Speed

By JERRY LISK

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Terry Brennan's Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, for want of a "bread-and-butter" successor to Johnny Lattner, will concentrate on break-away speed this fall. This was apparent as the Irish add the final touches of preparation for Saturday's opener with Texas.

A pair of elusive speedsters short-passer Lattner, whose short smashes for first downs gained him the "bread-and-butter" tag from retired coach Frank Leahy, and the bull-dozing Neil Worden.

One is an established star senior, left halfback Joe Heap, a fine open field runner. The other is a sophomore, Jim Morse of Muskegon, Mich., even shifter than Heap. Only last week, the 175-pound Morse was switched from understudying Heap to the No. 1 right half spot.

Fullback Question

At quarterback, brilliant Ralph Guglielmi will be in control of Notre Dame's split-T, but Irish fullbacking is a big question mark.

A converted quarterback, Don Schaefer, and two junior rookies, Johnny Gaffney and Nick Raich, are battling for the job vacated by Worden.

Guglielmi's passing and the potential of Heap or Morse going all the way will constitute the chief offensive threat of the Irish until a fullback proves himself.

Texas Tough For

The 26-year-old Brennan's Notre Dame debut will call for all the speed and trickery he can muster. Texas approaches with a team that easily could match the feat of the 1934 Longhorns who spoiled the debut of another Irish coach, Elmer Layden. Texas won that game, 7-6.

Texas, despite a 20-6 conquest of Louisiana State last week hasn't been beguiled by its heavy favoritism in the Southwest Conference. "We know Notre Dame will be steamed up for Brennan's first game," said Texas publicist Wilbur Evans. "We have a weakness against passing and we perhaps have been slightly over-rated. We hope to find out Saturday just how good we are."

Honor Braves' Dads At Saturday Game

GLADSTONE—Fathers of the Gladstone Braves football players will be honored at Dads' Day when the Braves entertain the Manistique Emeralds Saturday afternoon.

The dads will sit on the bench during the game and will be introduced as a group at half-time.

Bands of the two schools will also perform during the half.

Carter Wins Nod Over Game Herman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jimmy Carter, bolstered with another win, today fixed his sights anew on the lightweight crown he lost last march.

Carter won a 10-round unanimous decision over Freddie (Babe) Herman in a nationally televised fight Wednesday night.

Herman, a Los Angeles Mexican who absorbs punishment like a sponge, was drafted from his New Orleans training camp as a substitute for champion Paddy DeMarco, who hurt an elbow. Herman had fought a draw with Carter in 1952.

The twice postponed Carter-DeMarco title bout now is scheduled Nov. 17 at the Cow Palace.

Kuenn Collects 200th Hit As Tigers Win 4-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, with a day off, found themselves with little more to celebrate today than Harvey Kuenn's 200th hit of the season.

Kuenn became the first Tiger in history to collect that many hits in each of his first two seasons in action. He rapped out 209 last year.

The big hit came when the Tigers turned back the Baltimore Orioles 4-1 Wednesday in the last of a three game series.

The victory left Detroit 1½ games behind the fourth-place Boston Red Sox. The Tigers open a final three-game series against the champion Cleveland Indians Friday.

Steve Gromek held the Orioles to four hits yesterday to chalk up his 18th win of the season against 16 losses. Lou Kretlow was the loser.

The Tigers pushed across four runs in the seventh on 3 singles and doubles by Fred Hatfield, Bob Wilson and Jim Delsing.

Three other Tiger rookies — Dale Alexander and Roy Johnson in 1929 and Dick Wakefield in 1943 — collected more than 200 hits in their freshman seasons. But none repeated in their sophomore years.

Kuenn is the first batter in the American League and the second in the majors to reach the 200 mark.

By The Associated Press

Pitching — Karl Spooner, Brooklyn Dodgers, set a record for a rookie pitcher by striking out 15 New York Giants for a 3-0 victory.

Batting — Al Smith, Cleveland Indians, drove in two runs with a double and a triple as the American League champions defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-1.

Series Fans Will See Two Premier Fielders

(Second of three)
By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—World Series crowds will be able to compare first hand two of baseball's premier center fielders — Willie Mays of the Giants and Cleveland's Larry Doby.

Both powerful batters, fleet of foot and with strong throwing arms, Mays and Doby are a cinch to finish high in the Most Valuable Player voting.

Mays started and extended rallies, threatened Babe Ruth's home-run standard for a time and often came up with a key defensive play. Doby, perhaps a mite steadier than Willie in the field, though less sensational, carried most of the Indians' load after Al Rosen's slugging tailed off because of a fractured finger.

Giants Have Edge

Mays leads the National League with a .346 batting mark. His 41 homers and 110 runs batted in compare favorably with Doby's .32 circuit blows and 124 RBIs.

Overall, the Giants appear to have the outfield edge, if only for Don Mueller's superiority over Cleveland's right fielders, Dave Philley and Wally Westlake.

In left field, where Giant Manager Leo Durocher has yet to choose between Dusty Rhodes and Monte Irvin, there's no marked advantage either way over the Indians' Al Smith.

Mueller, with 203 hits — the most in the majors — and a third-place batting average of .338 is enjoying his best of seven big league seasons.

Smith Is Surprise

Philley, a switch-hitter, has a .224 average. Westlake likely will play against southpaw pitching.

Smith, one of the real surprises for the Indians, has produced 11 home runs, 49 runs batted in and a .278 batting average. Speedy and with a powerful, accurate throwing arm, he figures to play both against righthanders and lefties.

Whether Rhodes or Irvin gets the starting nod, the Giants will present a long ball threat in left field. Dusty, with a .344 average, has walloped 15 home runs and Irvin, although at .269, has 19.

Irvin's performance in the 1953 series, the last one in which the Giants appeared, may prompt Durocher to go along with him. Monte collected 11 hits in that six-game set for a sparkling .438 effort.

Lane Is Happy; Stengel Stays

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Frank Lane, outspoken general manager of the Chicago White Sox, was happy that Casey Stengel was signed to manage the New York Yankees for two more years.

"I'm glad he wasn't fired, as he suggested they do if the Yankees did not win the pennant," said Lane. "They sentenced him to something even worse — to hang around and rebuild his fallen champions."

Lane, who rarely misses an opportunity to take a slap at the Yankees and belittle Stengel, said he was convinced the Yankees' pennant monopoly has come to an end.

"They don't have a corner on the player market any more. The organization I'm really worried about is the Indians. They have good material coming up and should be tough for years to come. The Yankees still have some pretty good players on their club but they don't have any on their farm clubs."

Lane blamed the Yankees' pennant loss on the failure of their farm system to produce.

Lane picked the new American League champions to defeat the New York Giants in the approaching World Series "in five games."

Judge Promises To Quit Drinking

DETROIT (AP)—Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan says he has "given a solemn and sincere promise to all the other judges that I will retire immediately if I ever indulge in intoxicants again at any time."

The veteran Wayne County jurist's statement followed disclosure that admitted acts of personal misbehavior on his part had been reported to the Michigan Supreme Court by his fellow judges.

The 64-year-old Brennan admitted publicly Tuesday that he had "acted like a New Year's reveler" Sept. 13 at the monthly meeting of the county's 18 circuit judges.

Presiding Judge Ira W. Jayne said a "full report" had been prepared for the Supreme Court. Neither Jayne nor other judges, however, would comment on Brennan's specific behavior.

The Supreme Court rebuked Brennan in 1952 for "neglect of official duties and disgraceful conduct in public places." The court did not elaborate but Brennan said he understood the justices had in mind "injurious drinking after court hours."

Judge Brennan said he stopped drinking two years ago and joined Alcoholics Anonymous in the hope of becoming a model member.

"I didn't take a drink for nine months but then I made the mistake of trying one," he told newsmen. "If I take one drink I'm liable to take more than I should. That's what happened a week ago."

FULL OF ADMIRATION—Two-year-old Donna Lee Mock, of Johnstown, Pa., loves "Prince," her talented four-year-old boxer, and her eyes show it. But the sophisticated pooch with the dizzy set of props doesn't even seem to notice the starry-eyed little girl.

"I had been drinking more than I should and I said or did things which were considered improper by my colleagues. I had a cold and was not feeling well. I just took the wrong kind of medicine. It livened me up temporarily but left me even sicker for several days afterward."

Judge Jayne said Brennan made a formal apology to fellow judges yesterday at a meeting which Jayne called at Brennan's request. The Supreme Court has no authority to oust a circuit judge or take action beyond a public reprimand. The governor, however, is empowered to remove a judge upon a resolution from the Legislature or the Michigan State Bar may institute disbarment proceedings.

Auto Stalls In Path Of Train; 3 Women Killed Near Holland

HOLLAND (AP)—Three Fennville women were killed while on their way to work Tuesday when their car collided with a Chesapeake & Ohio Railway train east of the Holland city limits.

They were Mrs. Aileen M. Smith, 32; Mrs. Grace A. Liewehr, 40 and Mrs. Anna Robinson, 31. They were employed at the Davis Die Casting Co. of Holland.

Sheriff's deputies said the car, driven by Mrs. Smith, apparently stalled on the crossing.

Curb Vandalism At Cemetery Graves

NORFOLK Va. (AP)—You must have a permit to remove any shrubs from your own cemetery lot.

The city's ordinance is aimed at curbing vandalism and theft of plants. The owner gets a permit at the cemetery gate and surrenders it when he leaves.
